It moves along on the nerves and thus find sits way to the liver, lungs stomach and brain imparting increased activity and energy to these organs, while it separates and sets free every impurity or humor that may be lodge d there, and expels it to the surface. Hence the extraordinary rapidity and certainty with which it cures asthma, coughs and liver complaint. Also, headache, agues, consumption and spinal diseases.

PORTSMOUTH April 3 1848

Mr James McAlister—Dear Sir—Having purchased a few bottles of your Hair Oil last summer I persuaded my sister, who had lost her hair from some disease of the head to try it. She had used Bogle's Hyperion Fluid and several other articles recommended for the hair, without any beneficial results, but after having made use of your Hair Oil a short time, the hair began to make its appearance and she has now a fine head of hair.

Respectfully yours,

SAMUEL A BADGER.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF Sarsaparilla and Pipsissewa,

Prepared only by

ALBERT EMERSON,

DRUGGIST AND APOTHECARY

Apothecaries' Hall, 4 Smith's Block, BANGOR

THIS article is confidently recommended as a cure for all diseases arising from an impure state of the Blood such as Scrofula Salt Rheum Syphilitic and Mercurial Diseases Ulcerous Sores Pimples and Diseases of the Skin generally. This Syrup is highly approved by the Medical Faculty and is recommended as an internal remedy only for the purpose of an alterative as some would express the same thing to purify and renovate the system in all long standing diseases, where the fluids of the body have become vitiated.

Pipsissewa, (the Chimaphila Umbellata, or Prince's Pine) as it is variously called by Botanists) was first employed medicinally by the Aborigines of America and was first introduced to the notice of the medical profession in 1810 by the late eminent Physician Dr S L Mitchell of New York. Dr Peters of London says that it is an alterative in Scrofula and in other chronic diseases—it is generally supposed to possess almost specific powers, and Dr Paris of London speaks of a practitioner who relies solely for success upon Pipsissewa, "by which he is enabled to cure Scrofula in its worst forms."

When taken into the stomach it acts as a tonic producing an agreeable sensation, and assisting the appetite and digestive process, it promotes the action of the secreting organs more especially the Kidneys over which it does it appears to exert a specific influence. In order to insure essentially the benefit derived from Sarsaparilla have been admirably combined the Pipsissewa with it so that its tonic and diuretic qualities will materially promote the good effects of Sarsaparilla.

DR. CUMMINGS'S Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla and Dock.

THE articles above named are the principal ingredients of this medicine. With these others of vegetable origin are combined designed to render them more active, and consequently more immediately effective.

The Dock, or rather a species of it now ranks as a medicinal plant second to no one of the vegetable kingdom. With the aid of a distinguished chemist, whom the proprietor has consulted in the separation of the compound he has succeeded in overcoming the difficulty of preserving the extract of the root for any considerable length of time.

For many years the proprietor has tested in his practice the efficacy of the principal substances in the compound and is perfectly satisfied that they possess all the properties which have been ascribed to them. Recently he conceived the idea of uniting them, which has resulted in the production of the compound. In this the ingredients are found to act in harmony and to lose none of the qualities which they separately possess.

A larger portion of Sarsaparilla is soluble than has generally been supposed. The extract must to be relied on and least liable to deterioration is procured by subjecting the root to the action of the menstrua usually employed in extracting its virtues for a long time without heat or any other accelerating agent. None is permitted to be used in the compound, that has not been obtained by this process and that has been less than a year in preparation.

The Compound is recommended for Scrofulas Erysipelas Ulcerous affections Eruptions, and Mercurial diseases. Also for the numerous maladies arising from sedentary employments occupations of a harassing and fatiguing nature intense application, exposures to extremes of heat and cold, overtasking the physical powers and other abuses of the constitution among which are Neuralgia, Pains, Affection of the Liver Bilious Complaints and Dyspepsia or Indigestion.

In diseases of warm climates, with which the proprietor became familiar in his practice in Havana some years since, the compound will prove particularly efficacious, both as a remedy and a preventative.

This medicine has been for some time in use in this city, where the proprietor has passed nearly half a century of his professional life. It was extensively prescribed by him while in practice, and it is believed to be in favor with his medical brethren in general to whom he is known.

Whig and Courier.

WHIG NOMINATIONS.

FOR PRESIDENT,

ZACHARY TAYLOR.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT

MILLARD FILLMORE.

"For my part, in the dark and troubled night that is upon us, I see no star above the horizon promising light to guide us, but the intelligent, patriotic, united Whig Party of the United States."
DANIEL WEBSTER.

"If Gen TAYLOR is elected he will do more to curb the Spirit of Conquest, and check the Spread of Slavery, than any other man the Whigs can elect." JOHN Q. ADAMS.

LOUISVILLE, Sept 18, 1848

Mr Clay authorizes the publication of a paragraph in the Whig in which he says that, while he feels deeply and gratefully affected by the desire to which many of his friends cling, of electing him to the Presidency, he cannot accept a nomination for that office if it be tendered to him Feeling bound by the decision of the Philadelphia Convention, he does not wish and cannot consent, that any further use of his name, in connexion with that office, shall be made

The Lowell Courier truthfully remarks, that, Mr Van Buren was in favor of annexation, sought to accomplish it, and would have done so, as soon as he became President He did not pretend to resist annexation on the ground of opposition to slave territory, and it is a false feather now set in his cap by his new, ardent, and admiring Loco Whig and Liberty party followers There is not one word of truth in the pretence that Van Buren was opposed to Texas annexation on free soil grounds, or that he made any such pretence He was in favor of it slavery and all, as soon as the annexation was ended This is the truth of the matter as any one may learn, who wants only the truth

☞ The Portland Umpire thus calls upon the friends of Zachary Taylor to labor—"Let whigs and Taylor men and democrats who have independence to think, reason and act for themselves, set about it, and the plurality for Taylor in this State may be carried up to from 5000 to 10,000 votes Let them remain asleep, or jealous of each other, or different as to the result, and locofocoism will ride rough shod over the State, The word should now be, to arms! Vigilence, activity, independence should characterize the friends of Taylor, and all will be well, even in Maine

GEN TAYLOR.

It is remarkable says the Newark Advertiser, in this day of rude license of tongue and speech that no one has yet ventured to say a word against the conduct or character of Gen Taylor His whole life seems to have been marked by the exercise of the highest discretion and wisdom It is said in his praise that he never lost a battle So his habits of reaction and forethought appear to have preserved him through all the exigencies of a life of trial from gross mistakes

Of what other man in the nation can the same be said with truth?

☞ Not long since, a lady in Massachusetts by the name of Lyon had a suitor by the name of Lamb, in whom, as it happened, her affections were not at all interested At last, not finding the courtship very interesting, he came out boldly with the question, to which she very coolly replied—"The time has not yet arrived sir, when the lion and lamb may lie down together

"There are now four candidates for the Presidency in the field, in opposition to Cass, to wit Taylor, Gerrit Smith Van Buren, and Clay — There is plenty room for a dozen more Cass will lick all you can bring on [Bangor Democrat

Cass will lick the dust of disappointment, whatever else he may first choose to apply his tongue to Gen Taylor is to be the successful candidate for the Presidency if we can read the signs of the times

Hatien Executions.

The Moniteur Hatien of the 19th ult, is filled with the particulars of the trials of a number of persons charged with being concerned in a late rebellion against the existing Government It is now understood, we believe, that the men of property and standing in the Island, not having confidence in Soloque or his adherents, whose heads are filled with the most impracticable and agrarian schemes, were anxious to restore to power the late President Boyer.

☞ The annual Cattle Show for Penobscot county will be held at Levant Village on the 27th inst We hope the conductors of the papers in our city will call the attention of their readers to the subject

On the Death of Children.

The loss of friends is always affective But there is something inexpressibly touching in the death of children In them are centered all the great hopes of life However high, or however humble the parent, all cluster the highest hopes in their children Even the tender infant that but opens its eyes, and wreaths its face in angel-smiles, and then dies in its mother's bosom, leaves a pang in the hearts of its parents Deeper still is the grief, when the sweet prattler that, with its dawning intellect, has awakened hopeful anticipations, and ministered to parental enjoyment, is removed to the world of spirits More heart-crushing and overwhelming is the death of those who have been actively engaged for years in weaving their influence in all the events of family and of home While living, their society is loved and enjoyed, and high hopes are cherished, and they are the circle of a myriad of sympathies and interests—But when one such is removed by death—in a few, brief, troubled days, cut down by disease and pain, from joyous life and health to the cold chill of death, and removed to the silent grave who can measure, or express the waves of choking sorrow which force themselves upon the hearts of father and of mother, and seem to swell their hearts to breaking

What, but sad and painful experience, can tell how at every step the tenderest associations spring up, bringing a new and keen pressure upon the heart and causing tears to flow afresh? Here is the book, the now silent one last read—there the toy he so lovingly gave to his sister—and here the slate he brought from school, when last he went, and the little problems set down by his own hands! Slight as these may appear to those without experience, they are sufficient to awaken in the mind of the afflicted, a train of associations, woven by lightning speed, and to make the heart well up with the deepest anguish Bereaved parent, we can sympathise with you in all such sorrows We have felt, recently, the heart pangs of the entrance of death into our family circle, and removing there from a son of promise He was a gentle, faithful boy, and though scarce ten summers had passed over him, he was the light of our home—the sweet sister of the family—the loving and thoughtful protector of his little sisters! We loved him as a child—we enjoyed his company as a companion and an equal

No tongue can tell how closely he had woven himself into the entire texture of our hearts—the more so, perhaps, because his slender physical organization led him to shun all roughness, and to seek protection with those more advanced in age than himself, or to enjoy juvenile sports with the few of quiet habits and loving dispositions At every turn about the premises we meet tokens of him which touch sensitively the sympathetic fibres of our hearts His little garden, with the gay sweet flowers which he planted and tended—the specimens of his juvenile constructiveness—the books of his little library, which he arranged with such care in the case—the sweet hymns which he joined with us in singing—and the prayer he repeated in unison! Each and all of these with a multitude of other mementos and associations tell us with a language full of deep significance and force, of the influence he was daily and almost imperceptibly exerting over life's days

Our own bleeding heart tells us how much the grief-stricken parent will sympathize with the author of the following lines, written some years since in this city —

'Tis ever thus—'tis ever thus, when hope has built a bower,
Like that of Eden, wreathed about with every thornless flower
Told well therein securely the sel deceivers trust,
A whirlw ind from the desert comes,—and all is in the dust "

'Tis ever thus—'tis ever thus, Lost where the poor heart clings
With all its finest tendrils—with all its flexile rings—
That goodly thing it cleaveth to, so fondly and so fast
Is struck to earth by lightning or shattered by the blast.

'Tis ever thus— tis ever thus with beams of mortal bliss—
With hopes too bright and beautiful for such a world as this.
One moment round about us, their 'Angel lightnings' play,
Then down, the veil of darkness drops, and all hath past away

'Tis ever thus—'tis ever thus with sounds too sweet for earth,
Seraphic sounds that float away borne heavenward in their birth
The golden shell is broken—the silver chord is mute—
The sweet bells are all silent, and hushed the lovely lute

'Tis ever thus—'tis ever thus, with all that is best below—
The dearest, noblest loveliest, are always first to go
The bird that sings the sweetest, the pine that crowns the rock,
The glory of the garden, "the flower of the flock"

'Tis ever thus— tis ever thus, with creatures heavenly fair
Too finely framed to bide the brunt more earthly natures bear,
A little while they dwell with us, blest ministers of love—
Then spread the wings, we had not seen, and seek their home above

We feel deeply that those upon whom the hand of sorrow presses hard, on account of the death of their offspring, need the highest consolations We feel how precious the thought is, that our three little ones, and him the more recent tenant of the grave, are not far away, but near us still The world of effects about us, contains a world of causes within There are our children They are under the kind guardianship of the good angels, whose soft hands of love can do more and better for them than the best of earthly parents or friends Their far sight will teach them the divine love of truth, and of love, and fit them for the highest uses in the society of the heavens Their freed spirits having laid off their earthly coverings, like garments no longer needed, shall make advances in the inner life, until they reach the full stature of angels of usefulness in heaven and in the earth Their blessed ministrations will soothe our spirits in the day of sorrow, and support us in the hour of trial, if we but cultivate the inner life, and develope the powers of our spiritual natures, by loving the Lord and our neighbor Such are some of the consolations we cherish, and which help support us in the darkest hour

We are in doubt as to the appropriateness of this as an editorial article for the reading of the busy, feverish, self seeking world And yet, day by day, we record in our columns the death of children and of youth, heedless, almost, of the bitter pangs, each such fact causes to parents, even, almost, to the breaking of their hearts For such, then, we will publish these thoughts, that we may all mingle our sympathies on the death of our children, our cherished ones, in whom, seemingly, in our grief, were centered all our hopes in life Perchance some ray God, in the sources of our consolations some little gleam of comfort—some faint ray of reliable hope to light the darkness of the tomb, and to give them courage to press onward in the every day duties of life We are all beings of two worlds, united to the material, by our physical relations and wants, and to the spiritual, by the relations and wants of the soul Let us not live in forgetfulness of the purer, the higher, and the best

Mr Ritchie's opinion of Gen Taylor

Mr Ritchie did not always abuse Gen Taylor as he does now In May 1846, after the battles on the Rio Grande, Mr Ritchie wrote as follows —

The Pen worthy of the Sword —Nothing can be more happy, appropriate modest yet dignified, than the dispatches from Gen Taylor They are worthy of the man and of the occasion which has called them forth

The American reader will remark with pride and pleasure the striking contrast it exhibits to the tedious, extravagant, vaing orious productions of the Mexican General The neatness of the style is admirable—not a word too much or in the wrong place—all in fine keeping with the energy and decision with which his military operations are conducted

☞ A correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce writing from the South, says of General Taylor —

'I don t know whether he possesses every qualification for President, but he certainly does one, which is not the least important, that is, the habit of early rising I boarded at the same Hotel with him in New Orleans two or three weeks and can testify to that They have an early breakfast there, and we were generally first at the table I am not acquainted with the habits of former Presidents in this respect, but Zachary can write all his messages and letters, and do up a wonderful lot of little chores before the average of human kind have taken the last turn over, preparatory to the final opening of their eyes for the day Besides this, he is honest independent good natured, and patriotic, and he knows something

Penobscot County Teachers' Institute.

We learn from the circular of David Worcester Esq of this city, the member of the Board of Education for this county, that the Teachers Institute will be commenced in this city on the 14th day of November next, to continue at least ten days

The circular thus remarks —

'The interest which our teachers have heretofore manifested in qualifying themselves to discharge with fidelity and success the responsible duties of their profession, affords encouragement to anticipate, that all those who propose to engage in teaching, the ensuing winter will avail themselves of the advantages to be derived from this Institute We trust no teacher, who properly appreciates the importance of his calling, will fail to be present We hope that not only those who have but little or no experience in teaching, but those who have had much experience, will be present These will be able in the discussion, which will be had, to exp ain to their young brother and sister teachers, the secret of their success as teachers, and thus they may be of incalculable assistance to them

The Institute will be conducted as far as possible as a model school The studies usually pursued in our common schools will be reviewed, and the members of the Institute will be examined in them A fine opportunity will therefore be presented to the members to make known their thoroughness as scholars, and their capability as teachers, which may be of advantage to them in the way of securing good situations We hope that all who propose to attend, will if possible, be present in the morning of the first day, so that the Institute may be organized with the least delay possible

The Penobscot Institute last year was the second in the number of teachers in attendance we trust that of the present year will not fall behind its predecessor in this respect—the Board of Instructors will do what they can to make the Institute profitable to all who attend'

The Mission Anniversary.

Continued

BOSTON Sept 15

On the third day of the sessions, Thursday evening, meeting in behalf of the American Boards were appointed to be held simultaneously in two of the largest churches At the Tremont Temple, after prayer by Rev Dr Wilkes, of Montreal, the Hon Theodore Frelinghuysen, President of the Board, addressed the meeting on the temporal blessings of Christianity There he said, were seen wherever the Gospel was enjoyed by the community,—in all the relations of life—domestic, social and civil The religion of the Bible had thrown its sacred arms around the family circle, and bound together, by the holiest ties, its several members It had especially elevated woman, and by raising her in the scale of intelligence and moral excellence, had elevated the entire fabric of society The Gospel, wherever obeyed, regenerated human nature—restored in men the image of the Maker, inspired him with sentiments of true honor, philanthropy, benevolence and truth, and thus confidence and happiness were restored to the community

To the prevalence of Christianity we owed our civil institutions—civil freedom and liberty of conscience And the same religion, diffused abroad, would, among all nations, be productive of similar results

The union of American churches, in efforts to diffuse the blessings of the Gospel among the destitute, was their highest ornament, as well as blessing To do good to ourselves was well, but he full blessing, the highest rewards of Heaven, would be lost, if our efforts were limited to ourselves Forget out of ourselves to assistant people who are strangers to Christianity and who, perhaps despise us and our religion, and persuade them to receive and love the truth was God like,—was like Him who came from Heaven to preach, and suffer and die, that he might save those sunk in wickedness, and alienated from their Creator

But the grand purpose of the Gospel, he added, and the Missionary enterprise, was not merely temporal, happiness, it was the salvation of the soul All other things which followed from it were merely incidental

This Mission enterprise, he said, was great in the sight of God and of Angels It took hold of everlasting realities And it took deep hold of the sympathies of human nature It applied itself for mitigating human sorrows of every kind, and elevating our race to communion and friendship with the Eternal

We must not think, he said, to learn this lesson of benevolence to the not one from the poisoned, ambitious men—from the rabbis of idolizing wealth and power—but from the example of our Lord Jesus Christ When his children have fully imbibed their own souls with his spirit, then would they feel, that the best and nobles purpose of wealth was, not to aggrandise self, not to secure a glorious name not to gratify family pride—but to roll forward the chariots of salvation, and spread the light of those having the ever lasting Gospel to publish

Very interesting addresses were also made at this meeting by Rev Mr Stiles, of New York and Dr Beecher, of Lane Seminary

On Friday morning, at the public meeting in Central Church Rev Dr Eddy, of Newark presiding, devotional exercise for an hour were conducted by Rev Mr Wilks, from England Rev Mr Wilkes from Montreal, Dr Tucker from Connecticut and Dr Beecher, of Cincinnati

Mr Wilkes spoke of the dedications of Divine truth to all the ambitious and worldly, as well as to the heathen—urging the duty of intimate and Christian faithfulness, and alluding with solemn interest to the prophetic remark of the venerable Dr Beecher the preceding evening, that a day of great and general religious revival was manifestly at hand

Rev Mr Blagden of Boston solemnly urged the duty of personal efforts at home and conscientious union with the devout as means of more extended influence abroad And Dr Eddy in closing the morning service said that as the Anniversaries of the Board were held alternately at various points of the Union, they could not expect soon to meet again at the origin Jerusalem of Foreign Missions and that of the thousands now attending very few, perhaps might meet, till they with all the nations were assembled for Judgment With these solemn patterns, he would devote himself and others to renewed diligence D

SARSAPARILLA,

Wonder and Blessing of the Age.

THE MOST EXTRAORDINARY MEDICINE IN THE WORLD.

This Extracted put up in Quart Bottles—it is six times cheaper, pleasanter and warranted superior to any sold. Invalids without vomiting, purging, sickening, or debilitating the Patient.

The great efficacy and superiority of this Sarsaparilla over all other medicine, is, while it eradicates diseases it imparts strength to the body. It is one of the very best SPRING AND SUMMER MEDICINES ever known. It not only purifies the whole system and strengthens the person, but it creates new pure and rich blood, a power possessed by no other medicine. And in this lies the grand secret of its wonderful success.—It has for forty years within the last five years more than 100,000 certificates of severe cases of disease, at least 15,000 were considered incurable. It has saved the lives of more than 5,000 children during the two last seasons.

CASES OF SCROFULOUS DEBILITY AND HEAVY SUFFERINGS EXPIRED.

Dr Townsend's Sarsaparilla invigorates the whole system permanently. To those who have lost their strength by the effect of medicine or intense application, or by the excessive use of spirituous liquors, or who are brought on a premature decline of the human system, lassitude, want of ambition, loss of memory, premature decay and decline, hastening to insure that fatal disease, Consumption, can be entirely restored by this pleasant remedy. This Sarsaparilla is far superior to any

INVIGORATING CORDIAL

As it renews and invigorates the system, gives active life to the limbs and strength to the muscular system, in almost every imaginary degree.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

Chronic and Scrofulous Consumption cured. Bronchitis, Liver Complaint, Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Spitting of Blood, Sore Throat, Throat Ulcers, Bad Breath, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, Palpitation, Pain in the Side &c. have been all cured.

SPITTING BLOOD

New York, April 28 1847

Dr Townsend—I verily believe that your Sarsaparilla has been the means of saving my life. For several years I had a bad cough. It grew worse and worse. At last I raised large mouthfuls of blood half night and was so weak I was greatly reduced and did not expect to live. About my used your Sarsaparilla a short time, and it has a wonderful effect. I now weigh more than ever before, and can walk 1 hour a day. I raise no blood and my cough has left me. You are welcome to use this as you think proper for the benefit of others. Your obedient servant,

WM RUSSELL, 65 Catherine st

RHEUMATISM

This is only one of more than four thousand cases of Rheumatism that Dr Townsend's Sarsaparilla has cured. The most severe and chronic cases are weekly receiving the extraordinary virtues

James Coffin, Esq. clerk of the assistants in the Lunatic Asylum, Blackwell's Island, says a gentleman of the following character

Blackwell's Island, Sept 14 1847

Dr Townsend—Dear Sir I have suffered terribly from my sciatic with the Rheumatism, so much so that for the time I could not sit, stand, step or walk. I had this most distressing pains, and my limbs were totally swollen. I have used four bottles of your Sarsaparilla, and they have done me more than any thing else, and I believe it will do the same for others. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted. Yours respectfully,

JAMES CUMMINGS.

FITS FITS FITS!

Dr Townsend—I can honestly add this Sarsaparilla to those who have effectually cured fits, which I was subject and was given up by the following from an intelligent and respectable Farmer in Westchester County.

Fordham, August 15 1847

Dr Townsend—Dear Sir I have sold bottles of your Sarsaparilla for several years, and have sold with satisfaction to all who purchased it, and I believe it to be what you claim it, a good blood purifier. We could find no recommendation to your excellent Sarsaparilla here, well enough, as it was in very delicate health, we would give her a bottle of your Sarsaparilla, and are very glad we did, for it not only restored her strength, but she has had no return of the Fits. You are at liberty to use this as you please and purpose. She is further recovering rapidly and hearty, for which we feel grateful. Yours respectfully

JOHN HUTLER, Jr
